Initial Teacher Training

South Bromsgrove High Teaching School –
Primary Partnership

Our Primary Initial Teacher Training is led by St John's CofE Middle School, Bromsgrove, in partnership with South Bromsgrove and University of Worcester. We offer a comprehensive training package that includes a varied and engaging professional studies programme and outstanding support for trainees throughout the course.

We have extensive experience in Initial Teacher Training and our primary programme has grown significantly in recent years. As our programme has grown, so has our partnership and we have a well-established network of first, middle and primary schools who offer placements for our trainees. We are in no doubt that the strength of our offer to trainees lies in the very effective working relationships with our partner schools and we actively seek to connect with as many schools across Worcestershire and the wider West-Midlands as possible.
